COURSE ANNOUNCEMENT

AAACN Ambulatory Nursing Certification Review Course

August 18, 2016

COURSE DESCRIPTION: The course provides an overview of the potential content that may be tested on the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) ambulatory care nursing certification exam. It is a valuable opportunity to reinforce a nurse's knowledge of ambulatory care, identify weak areas, and learn new information. All topics are offered in an interactive, case problem-solving style to enhance critical thinking. Course content is based on the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) Test Content Outline for the ambulatory care nursing certification exam. The target audience is the RN interested in taking the exam, nurses transitioning into ambulatory care, or those who need a refresher of the ambulatory care nursing specialty. Please note this course does NOT grant certification in ambulatory care nursing.

OBJECTIVES: At the conclusion of this course the student will be able to:

- * Identify methods to prepare for the ambulatory care nursing certification exam including test taking techniques.
- * Summarize nursing process activities related to the ambulatory care nursing clinical role including clinical skills, triage assessment, care management and patient advocacy.
- * Apply communication techniques and principles utilized in the ambulatory care environment, including interpersonal skills, service excellence and cultural competency.
- * Describe key professional issues and trends, including regulatory issues and standards of care, that impact ambulatory care nursing practice.
- * Outline ambulatory care systems and processes related to medication management, quality management, operations, and documentation.
- * Examine the key components of education in the ambulatory care environment, including learning principles and techniques, health promotion and disease prevention, and self-care management.
- * Discuss professional issues, including ethical, legal, professional development, and leadership/management.
